ABSTRACT

Urbana University (Ohio) hosted a workshop for 350 girls from five high schools to meet professional women in nontraditional careers. Girls were not discouraged from looking at nursing, teaching, and secretarial careers, but were encouraged to look at all career options. The workshop focused on math/science careers, the space program, and entrepreneurial opportunities. Presenters from each of the 15 career clusters participated. (Attachments, which make up the bulk of the report, include materials from the workshop, such as the workshop schedule, a list of topics to be covered by presenters, sample presenter biographical information sheet, correspondence, list of speakers, workshop evaluation data, and agenda.) INVEST A DAY/FOR YOUR FUTURE

The Champaign County (Ohio) Career Advisory Council and six area professional organizations: The American Association of University Women, The Cooperative Extension Service, Private Industry Council of the Tecumseh Consortium, Soroptimist International Club of Urbana, Urbana Business & Professional Women, and Women's Progressive Club of Urbana planned this workshop for 350 high school girls from 5 high schools to meet professional women in non-traditional careers. The workshop was hosted by Urbana University.

The concept was not to discourage the girls to look at nursing, teaching, and secretarial careers, but to encourage the girls to look at all career options. However, we did want to encourage girls to look at math/science careers, the space program, and entrepreneurial opportunities. We included vocational, technical, and college prepared careers and had a presenter from each of the fifteen career clusters.

Most of the funding for this project came from Carol Whitney, Sex Equity Vocational Division, State Department of Education, the career education development program at Ohio Hi-Point Joint Vocational School, and the printing was paid for by the Private Industry Council-Tecumseh Consortium. The meals were paid for by the local professional women's organizations.

The Planning Committee was divided into four committees: communications, facilities, luncheon, and speakers. The Planning Committee members could serve on the committee(s) of their choice.

A counselor survey was conducted of each high school requesting the number of speakers from each career cluster based on 30 speakers and the number of last year's seniors employed in each career area.

The high school counselors presented the list of career areas to the students to find out if they would like to attend. Several high schools sent their entire sophomore class and filled their quota with junior and senior girls. Each student then received an engraved invitation typed with her name on the envelope. Then each student had to respond to their R.S.V.P. by writing a note or orally responding to their counselor/ teacher.

Depending on the number of speakers requested in each career area, a quota was set for each speaker in the three sessions. This allowed the smaller schools to compensate for their size, and to strengthen each schools academic areas. The counselors tried to give their students their first choice of speakers.

After each girl accepted her invitation, the girl's parent or guardian received a congratulatory letter, printed on good quality paper, commending them on the selection of their daughter to attend this all day workshop.

The schedule of the day started at 8:00 a.m. with a reception hosted by Urbana University's president for the keynoter and presenters. Each high school selected two girls to attend this reception.

At 9:15 the keynoter, Gail Bossert Klink, one of Ohio's finalists in the space program, presented her challenges and frustrations in the space program, where our space research is headed, and encouraged the girls to prepare themselves for any future career.

Two 45 minute sessions were scheduled in the morning and one 45 minute session in the afternoon. Our presenters were given a list of 14 questions to answer during the session, were encouraged to use any audio/visual material and/or hand outs, and were urged to wear any uniform they use with their career.

Each presenter was introduced by a member of a sponsoring organization, who introduced themselves, monitored the session, presented the speakers with a specially designed TRIVET, and closed the session.

At lunch we used placemats printed in each school's colors to discourage the girls from one high school sitting together. Since the workshop's colors were blue and white, our guests sat at bule and white placemats. We did not want a speaker's table, so we placed one speaker at each table. Each speaker wore a carnation enabling the students to easily identify them.

The table setting included linen table cloths, linen napkins, glass goblets, china, salt and pepper shakers, and a flower arrangement. The flower arrangements were given to the students.

All of the men administrators and supervisors from five school districts and the county office, including the directors of Ohio Hi-Point Joint Vocational School, the West Central Ohio Special Education Resource Center, the Cooperative Extension Service, the Private Industry Council, and the Planning Committee served the girls the noon meal.

The girls were allowed to walk to the lobby and see display materials from each of the sponsoring organizations.

During the wrap-up, we requested each student/guest to fill out a questionnaire for future use.

The criteria for each speaker included good communication skills, serve as a good role model, and a person the girls could identify with.

We had a typist under contract to assist with our communications with the planning committee, speakers, and the schools. We could not have planned this without this key position.

Two artists designed and printed our display posters and our "Think Careers" banner. Through Ohio Hi-Point Joint Vocational School, arrangements were made to video tape and edit a five minute 1/2 VHS tape. This tape is available for $20, includes shipping and handling, by writing Ken Davis, Champaign County Board of Education, 2380 South State Route 68, P. O. Box 269, Urbana, Ohio 43078.

Through this grant from the Sex Equity Division of Vocational Education, we paid for substitutes, student transportation, speaker fees, and the executive note pads.

The girls observations and comments were varied. Even though the counselors had explained the workshop thoroughly, most girls were awe struck with the formal setting. Many girls at the end of the day claimed to be interested in different careers than when they arrived. A follow-up study of these girls in the future is in the early planning stages.

With the monies left over from the grant, each high school received a copy of "I Touch the Future," a biography of Christa McAulife and "What Color is Your Parachute."

This program has been presented to the 1987 American Vocational Association's National Convention, and the 1987 Martha Holden Jennings/Ohio Department of Education Conference of Citizenship and Character.

For additional information contact Ken Davis at the Champaign County Board of Education, P. O. Box 269, Urbana, Ohio 43078, telephone 513-653-5296.

Dear Friend: .

Thank you for agreeing to serve as a presider for one of our speakers at the November 20th Workshop to Meet Women in Non-Traditional Careers. Each 45 minute presentation will include educators, students, and guests.

When introducing yourself, include your position and the organization you represent. Enclosed is a Biographical Sheet on your speaker and a List of Speakers. If the speaker you are introducing has her name circled on the List of Speakers, please pick up her memento, a trivet, at the registration table to present to her at the end of the session. It is important to start and dismiss the students on time. During the last few minutes, remind your students to fill out their evaluation sheet.

Feel free to contact me if you have any questions. Thanks again for your support of this workshop.

Sincerely,

Ken Davis

RE: Invest A Day/For Your Future Workshop

Please go over the following items with your students before they arrive at our workshop:

1. Go over the location of the girls restrooms upstairs and downstairs.
2. If any assistance is needed, check with anyone with a name tag on--except speakers. All the speakers will be wearing carnations and the keynote speaker will be wearing a corsage.
3. Encourage the girls to ask questions during each session.
4. Stay in the building at noon.
5. Blue placemats are for guests and speakers.
6. Sit at placemat with your school colors.
7. Keep placemat if you'd like.
8. Do not talk between tables.
9. Do not sit at another table after eating.
10. Do not stand around another's table.
11. May visit the lobby area at lunch.
12. Please do not leave anything in the classrooms.
13. Leave workshop evaluation form on the table after the session.
14. Do not leave session until you are dismissed.
15. If you would like to contact any speaker, the counselors will have their addresses.
16. Remind your students they represent their school and young adults.

COUNSELORS: YOU MAY LOAD AND UNLOAD BUSES NEXT TO THE COMMUNITY COLLEGE CENTER BUILDING. BUSES MAY BE PARKED AT THE SOUTH END OF THE PARKING LOT.

WHEN LEAVING--GRAHAM HIGH SCHOOL WILL LEAVE FIRST. WE WILL DISMISS THE GIRLS FROM THE GYMNASIUM BY SCHOOL DISTRICT.

Congratulations on your daughter being selected to attend an all day workshop for high school girls on Thursday, November 20, to be hosted by Urbana University.

The sponsoring organizations are very happy to provide your daughter with the opportunity to meet professional women in non-traditional careers. Most speakers are from our immediate area, and all speakers represent careers from vocational, technical and college areas.

We urge your daughter to look at all career options and to contact her high school counselor for assistance in selecting her career.

Please encourage your daughter to think of each area as a possible career, and think of questions that would be appropriate for that career.

Lunch is being sponsored by the American Association of University Women, Business and Professional Women, Soroptimist Club of Urbana, and the Progressive Women's Club of Urbana. Your daughter will have an opportunity to have lunch with our speakers and guests.

If your daughter would like to contact any of the speakers personally, her high school counselor will have their addresses.

Sincerely,

Ken

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

GAIL BOSSERT KLINK

Ohio's 5 foot tall TEACHER-in-SPACE finalist blends humor, wisdom, and inspiration into a dynamite package.

An international speaker, Gail was one of three Americans asked to speak about our culture at the Sorbonne, the famous institution of learning in Paris.

Her varied background includes speaking, writing, and teaching Spanish and English. Gail wrote, produced, directed, and narrated her own television movie. While teaching neither subject, she was named once as an outstanding social studies teacher and twice as an outstanding teacher of economics. Gail is also a member of Phi Delta Kappa.

At home in Granville, Ohio, Gail teaches at Newark High School and resides with her family.
